We live in a racialized society. Our social, political and economic structures are permeated with explicit and subtle patterns of inequity. Some groups benefit while others are disproportionately impacted.

Become a better leader through this one-day training with instructor Maria Lisa Johnson, presented by Healthy Living Collaborative. Participants will:

- Increase awareness of the historical impacts of structural inequity
- Deepen understanding of the dynamics of oppression, power and privilege
- Recognize and learn about strategies to manage your biases
- And More!

Register today: www.bit.ly/hlcevents

Youth and Family Link
907 Douglas Street
Longview, WA 98632

(360) 828-7319 | info@southwestach.org