Community Updates

Megan shared that HealthierHere is convening a group to scope / select a Community Information Exchange (CIE) and is wondering if SWACH is looking into something similar.

Jesse shared that Kaiser is working on a new referral platform to help connect patients to community resources – Thrive Local. The work is being piloted in the northwest, then will roll out in California and nationally, and potentially to other health systems beyond KP. David Hudson shared information on Clark County Public Health Department’s response to the recent measles outbreak. Discussion included:

- Whether estimated costs included staff time only, or also incorporated lost productivity?
- Where and how other organizations’ efforts were reflected in these costs, and the potential to update the document to reflect these efforts.
- Lessons learned in reacting (or not reacting) to anti-vaxxers

Jim shared that the Clark County Opioid Taskforce is working on identifying measures, and may want Data Workgroup review / input on the suggested measures in the future.

Healthy Columbia Willamette is dissolving the collaborative. Some work is moving to Health Share of Oregon, but unclear how Clark County will still be represented in this effort.

Sarah shared that SWACH has hired Kim Lepin, Transformation Improvement Director.

SWACH Partner Reporting

Sarah shared that SWACH has finalized partner schedules and guidance for contracted partners, and that partners have been asked to complete a baseline report within 15 days of signing agreements with SWACH. Sarah shared preliminary baseline MeHAF scores and responses to the opioid questions required by the state, and previewed the types of questions that are being considered for upcoming quarterly reports.
Pathways Community Benchmarking

Sarah asked for input on potential “community benchmarks” on behalf of the Pathways Community HUB program. These benchmarks would help the program compare the experiences of Pathways clients with things like average length of time homeless or unemployed in the region.

Discussion included:

- Whether pathways were missing steps (e.g. “placement in housing” prior to confirming client has been housed for 2 months). Consider differences between skills and resources needed to get to placement versus retention of placement, and the importance of tracking both and benchmarking these separately.
- Follow up with Council for the Homeless and/or Vancouver Housing Authority for more information on data they may be tracking that could be used for housing benchmarking, and with Bridgeview and employment agencies re: employment benchmarking
- Consider adding questions to the evaluation survey that would help address some of these topics and the gaps / missing steps (e.g. “placement in housing”, “got job”)
- Consider looking at concepts like ownership and empowerment or engagement / self-efficacy. Is pathways affecting any of these pieces?
- In general, better to create benchmarks before improvement / implementation to avoid bias

The workgroup is interested in additional information about the planned Pathways evaluation; potential agenda topic for August meeting.

Future Direction

The workgroup agreed to hold one more meeting in August to discuss Pathways evaluation and the Community Priorities project. After August, the group will cancel standing meetings and only meet on an ad hoc basis.

Next Meeting

The next meeting will be held Thursday, August 1, 2019.
