SWACH Pathways HUB Evaluation
Hannah Cohen-Cline presented on the planned evaluation of SWACH’s Pathways HUB. Her presentation included a brief overview of the Pathways model, the objective and study design for the evaluation, and data sources and measures that will be used for the evaluation. Discussion included:

- Differences between 211 and the Pathways HUB
- How many community health workers (CHWs) and care coordinating agencies (CCAs) there are
- Providing training and/or talking points to CHWs so they know how to answer questions about the evaluation from clients who may receive evaluation surveys. Clarifying that CHWs are not responsible for (not allowed) collecting any information from clients for the evaluation.
- The length of the survey, and why certain topics were not included in the survey (e.g. alcohol, tobacco, or marijuana use)
- Whether or not there will be a control group for the evaluation.

The draft evaluation survey will be shared with the Data Workgroup; any questions or feedback requested by August 9th.

Community Priorities Project
David Hudson provided an update on the Community Priorities project. See handout in meeting materials. The first data products are anticipated in November 2019 and may include story maps and interactive online tools. The Data Workgroup agreed that having some type of report for each of the topic areas and an executive summary will still be useful.

Community Updates
Allen Esaacson shared that Skamania County is working with Collective Medical Technologies (CMT) to figure out how to coordinate PreManage with the county electronic health record.

Corey Cerise shared that MCOs are working on implementing new requirements for supplemental behavioral health transactions, non-encounter mental health and substance use data. Corey agreed to share the draft guidance document if possible.
Jim Jenson shared that he is working with the regional behavioral health service gap workgroup to identify data that can help identify service gaps, systems and policies. Jim and Sarah will connect about potential data options.

David Hudson shared that Clark County Public Health has hired a new evaluation coordinator, who will focus on evaluating internal efforts and also provide support to partners.

Megan McAninch-Jones shared that the Healthy Columbia Willamette released their 2019 report. Megan will share the link to the report.

Sarah Bartelmann shared the Clark County Opioid Taskforce measures that are in development. David Hudson noted that there may be concerns with using Healthy Youth Survey data for certain grades. Sarah will also share the link to the Department of Health opioid dashboards.
